

Tauranga Rowing Club - Member Code of Conduct

I agree as a member of Tauranga Rowing Club to conduct myself in these ways, on and off the water:

- In a friendly manner, showing respect to others
- As a good sport, showing pride in our club
- Acknowledging and appreciating the efforts and achievements of others
- Maintaining high standards and giving my best to the sport and the club
- Keeping myself and others safe
- Treating the equipment and facilities with due care
- Following the rules of the Tauranga Rowing Club

I shall adhere to the clubs rules and regulations (including safety rules) and I accept that in the event of breaches of these rules, the Club Captain and/or Executive Committee has the right to impose certain penalties as deemed appropriate.

I understand that unacceptable behaviour or actions on my part whilst representing Tauranga Rowing Club will result in disciplinary actions, and if serious, may result in suspension or expulsion from the club. Such actions shall include:

- Failure to pay fees on a timely basis
- Breaches of Club rules and protocol
- Partaking in conduct that may harm the reputation of the club
- Repeated unsportsmanlike conduct, particularly when wearing club colours
- Criminal conduct of any kind on the club premises or while representing the club
- Taking illegal substances
- Abuse of trust in matters relating to the club finances, plant or equipment

I accept that the Executive Committee will treat any matters of discipline in a fair manner and allow any member charged with a breach of conduct to present a written appeal of a membership decision in person with a representative should the member so choose. Any appeal will be heard in the strictest confidence by the Executive Committee. The Executive Committees decision shall be final.

I also recognise as a club member that I have an obligation to take part in all aspects of the club operations, including boat loading, fundraising, cleaning and plant & property maintenance.

Rowing New Zealand Requirements

I have read, understood, and agree to abide by the rules contained in the Tauranga Rowing Club Water Safety Code hanging in TRC Rowing Shed on the wall beside the weights room.

I agree to abstain from using any substances banned by Rowing New Zealand.
